

Dear 2024 Joint Service Air Traffic Control Symposium Supporter,

The Air Traffic Control Association (ATCA) will host the 2024 Joint Service Air Traffic Control (ATC) Symposium in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, at the Sheraton Myrtle Beach Convention Center Hotel. The Symposium will take place from May 13 - 16, 2024.

The Symposium is an ideal forum to showcase air traffic control to the US Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force, and Army. The Symposium helps reinforce the Department of the Navy's, Department of the Air Force's, and Department of the Army's professional excellence in the ATC community. It allows senior military and civilian professionals to enlighten, inspire, and educate junior military air traffic controllers on ATC's latest technological advances, operational enhancements, training initiatives and policy changes. The symposium provides the perfect opportunity to go beyond the classroom and traditional training methods.

The theme for the 2024 Joint Service ATC Symposium is "Preparing for the Next Generation of Air Traffic Controllers". The Symposium agenda, speakers, and a link to register will be posted soon. There are many opportunities for you to participate, including showcasing air traffic control tools through an exhibit, identifying educational opportunities for young Sailors, Marines, Airman, and Soldiers, sponsoring Symposium coffee breaks, hosting an evening social, or participating in technological demonstrations. The 2024 Symposium schedule is as follows:

Monday, 13 May Registration, Exhibit set-up
Tuesday, 14 May Symposium opening and training session, Exhibits, Evening Welcome Reception
Wednesday, 15 May Symposium training session, Exhibits
Thursday, 16 May Symposium training session, Exhibits, Exhibits tear-down (starting at 1430), Evening social

ATCA has a large hall to accommodate all who are interested in exhibiting in 2024. Additionally, electricians will be available to provide all electrical needs for your booth.

If you'd like to be an exhibitor or sponsor at the 2024 Joint Service ATC Symposium, please contact Jason Buerger at jason.m.buerger.civ@us.navy.mil by Friday February 16, 2024.
